RETURN ON INTELLIGENCE

Three questions from Monday's client calls

Every answer comes with the working, the source behind each figure, and an offer to do the next thing.

CUSTOMER TARGETING

Which lapsed customers are worth mailing this quarter?

Milo 12 sec

52,400 customers lapsed 6 to 24 months ago. RFV puts 9,800 in the top two cells, with 58% of past spend. Mailing those breaks even at 1.4%.

CAMPAIGN DELIVERY

Which postcode sectors should the next door drop cover?

Milo 10 sec

41 of 120 sectors beat the £25 target CPA on the spring drop. 18 cost over £60, mostly flats. Twelve untested sectors match the winners.

RESPONSE TRACKING

Did the personalised pack beat the control?

Milo 9 sec

Yes, 4.1% response against 2.6% over six weeks, about 1,800 extra orders. The lift was biggest among customers lapsed 6 to 12 months.

Figures are illustrative. On a client's own data every answer traces back to the record it came from, and Milo shows the working.

CRITICAL PATH

Your first thirty days

Client systems stay as they are. Nothing gets migrated.

DAY 1

Connect

Read-only access to client CRMs, transactions and response data. Milo builds any connector still missing.

DAY 7

First answers

Milo knows each client's segments, cells, channels and KPIs. Ask in the browser, Teams or WhatsApp.

DAY 14

The Monday report

Response, CPA and test results per client, built from questions you've asked, before the calls.

DAY 30

Decide

Carry on, or walk away. No notice period and nothing to unpick.

What's in the pack?

- ✓ Unlimited users: planners, analysts, account managers, even clients.
- ✓ A Milo lead, who sets it all up with you.
- ✓ Dashboards anyone can build from a question, alongside Zebra.
- ✓ The working behind every answer, down to the record.

What's not in the pack?

- ✗ A data warehouse project
- ✗ Replacing Zebra
- ✗ Seat licences

Client data, handled properly

Milo runs in the UK or EU region you choose. Client data never trains a model or goes to an external AI service. Access follows the permissions you set, and calculations run as code, so the same question returns the same number every time.
