When you're live, we'll get Milo running for you.

There was nothing in your setup we haven't connected before, so getting started should be simple. Once the new platform has settled, we connect Milo to BigQuery and the tools around it, and your team can ask questions of your own data and get answers straight away.

SETTING YOU UP

What we do

- Connect BigQuery, EveryMatrix, Fast Track, PaymentIQ, Crucial Compliance and anything else you want in.
- Build your first dashboards, reports and alerts with the people who'll use them.
- Write your KPIs and how you work them out into Milo, so every answer uses them.

YOUR SIDE

What you do

- Give us read-only access to the data you're happy to share.
- Tell us which numbers matter and how you work them out.
- Spend an hour or so a week with us, or more if you want.

AFTER SETUP

We stay with you

A team that knows you

A named engineer and account manager, in a shared Slack or WhatsApp channel.

Help as you grow

Sessions with each team as more people come on, online or in person.

Ideas that work

What's worked for our other gaming clients, and a heads-up on anything new.

WHO ELSE RUNS ON IT

Built in gaming

Milo started at BetGames and now runs at Betcity, 7bet, Tsogo Sun, Octoplay and others. Betcity's CEO is happy to tell you how they found it. Just say and I'll set up the call.

TO START

£2,000

for one month

A month on your own data, with as many of your team as you like. At the end, carry on or walk away and we disconnect everything.
